

Barb Rosenstock

True Stories for Today's Kids

Barb Rosenstock – Introduction

Barb Rosenstock likes true stories. A lifelong reader and library nerd, she mixes fascinating research and playful language into children's books that bring history to life. Barb was born and still lives near Chicago with her family. Her picture book, The Noisy Paint Box, illustrated by Mary Grandpré, was awarded a Caldecott Honor. Other award-winning books include Otis & Will Discover the Deep, The Secret Kingdom, Through the Window, The Camping Trip that Changed America and many more. She loves to visit schools across the country to share writing stories with students and their families.
